Teacher / Advisor Introduction

Subject: A Ready-Made Community Service and Safety Education Opportunity

Dear Teacher or Student Organization Advisor,

Would your students enjoy participating in a community initiative that combines safety education, leadership, communication, and helping others?

The Bandana-Guide Community Safety Initiative offers just such an opportunity.

The Initiative provides educational Bandana-Guides covering everyday safety topics while helping communities build local SafetyNets for one-time emergency assistance.

Students can participate by helping share information about the Initiative through school-approved activities.

Possible student activities include:

- Selecting and adapting a ready-made community awareness message.
- Preparing a school-approved social media post or newsletter announcement.
- Sharing educational safety information with families.
- Developing a short classroom or club presentation.
- Exploring how local partnerships can strengthen communities.

Our Resource Center includes ready-to-use materials, along with specialized introductions for FFA, FBLA, FCCLA, DECA, SkillsUSA, and HOSA.

There is no requirement for students to sell products, collect money, or handle inventory.

Activities are voluntary and subject to school and advisor approval.
