A Short Presentation for Student Organizations

Estimated speaking time: 60–90 seconds

Did you know that something as simple as sharing safety information could also help build an emergency assistance resource for families in our community?

It's called the Bandana-Guide Community Safety Initiative.

Bandana-Guides are portable safety education guides covering topics like First-Aid, Home Safety, Personal Safety & Defense, Food Safety and other important safety subjects.

Bandana-Guides kept close at hand make them valuable additions to your family's safety resources—and thoughtful gifts for your loved ones, too!.

Every Bandana-Guide purchased also helps build a community SafetyNet, providing a helping hand to neighbors facing unexpected emergencies. When someone purchases a Guide online for $19.95, up to $10 is allocated to the community associated with their Safety Code, usually their ZIP Code.

That money helps build a local Community SafetyNet, designed to provide one-time assistance to neighbors facing unexpected emergencies.

Here's where we can help…

Our organization doesn't need to sell anything, collect money, or handle products.

We can simply share information through emails, social media, newsletters, or community activities. All of the documents are already prepared for us to copy, past, and send.

It's an opportunity to practice leadership, improve safety awareness, and help strengthen our community.

Sometimes making a difference starts with something as simple as sharing an idea."
